

Panic lock

Product description

- The panic lock is used as an emergency-release device for shaft covers. It can be retrofitted on existing shaft covers. The lock comprises a system with a pre-installed release handle and two locking nuts.

Product variants

Order number

47105